Descrizione

Abacus 62' is a luxury yacht designed by the famous designer Fulvio De Simoni.

A stylized hull line and the superstructure with an extremely aerodynamic flybridge creates a very modern and aggressive look.

The wise play of volumes, large windows, the slender and charming solution on the roll-bar top lengthened create the visual effect of an open runny, which is far away from the classic impressive and somewhat massive flybridge.

The "touch" by De Simoni has created a boat where the design, functionality, comfort and performance gather in a unique and refined combination.

Abacus 62' has large spaces that allow you to live on board for long periods in great comfort.

Guests are "spoiled" by numerous attentions: all lounges have air conditioning with independent controller, many structures have electric/remote control: doors, ladder, stereo equipment, LCD TVs, refrigerators and all sort of appliance are as comfortable as of villa overlooking the sea.

Abacus 62' is just that a beautiful floating villa on the sea that cruises at 30 knots changing continuously the landscapes.
